

HUI KALAIAIANA.

A Republic Under Discussion—
The Hui Doesn't Seem To Want It.

The meeting of the Hui Kalaiaiana at Robinson's Hall on Friday evening was quite largely attended. As soon as the meeting was called to order Mr. J. L. Kaulukou introduced the following subject for discussion: "Resolved, that the Hui Kalaiaiana declare its entire disapproval of converting Hawaii into a republic."

Hon. W. White moved that the resolution be indefinitely postponed. Mr. Kaulukou, the introducer of the resolution, said that the subject before the meeting was of vital interest to every Hawaiian, and it was for Hawaiians to stand up for themselves and say that monarchical government is good enough for them. You must trample no idea of a republic under your feet if you are loyal to your country and faithful to your Queen. There is a rumor circulated about this city that there are certain ones conspiring to overthrow the Queen's throne and form a republic. The Hui Kalaiaiana must tell the whole nation to discard altogether that foolish notion. We must strain every nerve to perpetuate a monarchical form of government for Hawaii, not only for our benefit, but for our children's children. They will reverence our memory. We heard some rascals say that the Queen herself is in favor of such a move, but let us, as true Hawaiians, not entertain that idea. A republican form of government will be sure destruction to Hawaii and the natives of the soil. He asked every one to unite with him in hating and abhorring the very idea of a republic in Hawaii. His remarks received the approbation of many.

Hon. R. W. Wilcox arose and asked: "Who in this audience loves his country?" He believed that the subject was brought up by its introducer for political ends—to catch votes, and not because the (Kaulukou) was imbued really with love of country. The papers at New York and Washington have it that Hawaii was in favor of a republic. Such idle talk is circulated abroad because of utter misgovernment of affairs at home. Ignorant fools are conducting the Government. A "blacksmith" is very influential with the Queen, and of course no one has the faintest regard for his advice on state matters. He is too ignorant a man to be even trusted with any responsible Government position. It is a standing disgrace to the Hawaiian nation, and he wondered how intelligent men could have ever allowed such a state of affairs to continue in Hawaii. The Marshal is an ignoramus at figures, for he cannot solve a problem in long division, and he assured each one present that they were better mathematicians than the high-salaried Marshal of the Kingdom. Education is not appreciated by the present Government. Mr. Kaulukou (pointing at him) said at the Native Sons of Hawaii's meeting yesterday evening that Messrs. Bush and Wilcox ought to be arrested. He does not dare say that in my presence now, for if he does I'll boot him through the window. [Mr. Kaulukou said that he did not say anything to that effect.] Mr. Wilcox continuing, said it is this kind of a government that is misleading the Queen. The late beloved Kalaiaiana had also suffered from their evil advice. To form a republic, the point of the bayonet is necessary; it would not be accomplished by idle talk. We must all be loyal Hawaiians, and tell the Queen that her present Government is an injustice and a disgrace to the nation. We must not flatter her. Point out her wrong-doing to her; that is the only way to strengthen her position and continue her throne.

Mr. Pipikane said that he was sorry that this subject was ever introduced before the meeting. He suspected the intentions of the introducer. He was in favor of the Queen, but he would think more of her if she would only condescend to look to the wants of her subjects.

Mr. J. Poe said that the talk about a republic is a bait to catch white fishes, meaning the foreigners.

Hon. W. White expressed his great disapproval of the personal remarks between Messrs. Wilcox and Kaulukou. He had always abhorred the idea of a republic.

Mr. Kaulukou asked to be allowed to vindicate himself from the charges of Mr. Wilcox. The charges were utterly without foundation. As to his ability being inferior to that of Mr. Wilcox, he would not admit it. He thought that he was master in his profession. He sent Mr. Wilcox to be educated in Italy.

President Kahoonei, seeing that the spirit of the meeting was raised above the normal point, closed further debate. He said that the Hui Kalaiaiana was and is ever will be for a monarchical form of government for Hawaii.

Mr. White again asked the indefinite postponement of Kaulukou's resolution, which was carried by a large majority.

The meeting then adjourned.

A New Water Supply for Paris—
A Monster Tank.

The work for bringing the waters of the Ayre and the Vigne to Paris is being pushed forward actively. It is expected that the water will be brought to Paris in May, 1893.

A new gas-tank at Bolton, Eng., will have a capacity for storing upward of 200,000 cubic feet of gas. The tank is 84 feet in diameter and 24 feet deep, and will require 3000 tons of water to fill it.

According to a circular issued by the Ottoman Government, it is in contemplation to establish an industrial and commercial sample office in Constantinople, in order to develop Turkish crafts and commerce.

It is intended to open a museum in Alexandria, mainly for the reception of objects of the Græco-Roman period. The director will be a Frenchman, M. Grebaut.

A recent plan suggested to overcome the disagreeable noise of arc lamps is to mix an alkali silicate with the carbon, the evaporation of which, as the arc burns, forms a conducting vapor that overcomes the hissing.—Bx.

The Yacht St. George.

This vessel, which left here on the 26th of November for Hilo, arrived there on the 27th, and its party of six gentlemen went up to the Volcano on the following day. After visiting the lava lake, they proceeded on to Punaluu, intending to board the yacht, which had been ordered by telephone to meet them there. The captain on approaching the Kau coast, finding the sea breaking very heavily along the shore, deemed it unsafe to venture in, and returned to Hilo, where he received further orders by telephone to proceed to Kealahou Bay, which he did. The yacht party then took passage on the steamer W. G. Hall, arriving at the bay a few hours after the yacht, which will probably return here to day. This furnishes an instance of the value of the telephone, in cases where connection has been interrupted between the owner of the ship and his officers.
